EMERY IS AGAIN BACK ON JOB

FORMER OCCUPANT OF DAIRY AND FOOD OFFICE, REMOVED BY PHILIPP, IS RETURNED

HAS LONG GOOD RECORD

MISS MAUD NEPRUD, PHILIPP APPOINTEE, REMAINS ON STATE BOARD

(By the United Press.)

Madison, Wis, Jan. 25.—Gov. John J. Blaine today sent to the state senate the appointment of I. Emery of Albion, to be state food and dairy commissioner, and Miss Maud Neprud of Viroqua, to be member of the state board of control. No opposition is expected to be made against the appointments.

Emery is named to succeed George Weigle, whose term of office expires February 7. Miss Neprud will succeed herself, but the appointment had to be made and ratified by the legislature this month according to law.

Has Fine Record

The position of dairy and food commissioner pays $4,000 a year and was a much sought after appointment. Emery prior to 1915 served as dairy and food commissioner for many years. Gov. Blaine in making the appointment was encouraged to do so by recommendations from agriculturists throughout the state. Emery is a civil war veteran and graduated from Albion college in 1866. For many years he served as principal of high schools in Wisconsin and for sixteen years was principal of the Fort Atkinson high school. In 1889 he was chosen ts president of the state normal school at River Falls and held the position for four years. He was nominated as state superintendent of schools in 1894 and elected. He was re-elected in 1896. He was then chosen a member of the state dairy and food commission and under his administration many of the important dairy laws of the state were enacted into law. He has been president of the State Dairymen's association. Since 1915 he nas had charge of the farming interests in southern Dane county.

Miss Neprud was appointed to the board of control originally by Gov. E. E. Philipp. She was educated in La Crosse high and normal schools and graduated from the University of Wisconsin in 1914. For three years she taught in high schools in Tomahawk and La Crosse. She was twice elected county superintendent of schools in Vernon county. On July 10, 1919, she was appointed a member of the board of control. She is 30 years old. The position pays $5,000.

Gov. Blaine is expected to send in within 10 days his appointments for vacancies which will shortly occur on other commissions.

These include members of the railroad and tax commissions.

Gov. Blaine also named the legislative committee which will visit and report on state institutions the next two years. It is: Senators E. R. Ridgway of Elkhorn and O. R. Olson of Blanchardville; Assemblymen Fred Hess of Waupaca, E. A. Kenyon of Gilmanton, W. M. Smith of Linden, and S. S. Stolowski of Milwaukee.

GERMANS NEED GUNS TO FIGHT RUSSIANS

BECAUSE OF POSSIBLE ATTACK IN SPRING DISARMING OF COUNTRY WOULD NOT BE SAFE

Paris, Jan. 25—Allied physicians were to prescribe for Austria today Representatives of that financially torn country hoped the prescription would be large credits to be extended immediately and spread over a long period. Consideration of the Austrian situation was advanced on the program of the Allied supreme council, on urgent representation of the Austrian plight.

French and British delegates had a long argument over the question of German disarmament. The British declared grave responsibility would be incurred in disarming in Germany in the face of a possible bolshevik attack next spring.

SIX ARE STILL IN JAIL

THREE YOUTHS UNABLE TO PAY FINES, THREE OTHERS TO FURNISH BAIL

(From Tuesday's Daily)

Six of the young men who appeared in county court on Monday to answer to moonshine charges, including the three who pleaded guilty and three others who are to be tried next Friday, are still in the county jail.

Frank Dayo, Michael Rogaczewski and Joseph Grulkowski, who were given their choice of paying fines of $100 and costs each or spending not more than 30 days in jail, have not yet raised the money and are serving the jail sentence. Joseph Stanczyk, Edward Majeski and Steve Paluskewicz, who were implicated in court proceedings on Saturday and pleaded not guilty on Monday, are still at the county jail in default of bail in the sum of $300 each.

Barney Chilla of Rosholt, from whom, it is charged, the alleged moonshine was stolen, furnished bail in the sum of $300. His case will be tried next Monday.

ARRESTS MAN AFTER CHASE

OFFICER DISCHARGES REVOLVER WHILE IN PURSUIT OF SIXTH MAN TAKEN INTO CUSTODY MONDAY

ALL ENTER GUILTY PLEAS

DEFENDANTS ARE ARRAIGNED IN COURT ON DRUNK AND DISORDERLY CHARGES

(From Tuesday's Daily)

Night Officer John Worzalla was the victor in a foot race staged on down town streets on Monday evening, overtaking and arresting Joseph Zwara, city, after pursuing him for two blocks. The officer resorted to strategy in the race, twice discharging his revolver in the air, which caused the one pursued to slip and fall on the ice.

Zwara was the last of a group of six men whom the police sought on Monday on warrants sworn out by Chief John S. Hofsoos charging each with being intoxicated upon the streets of the city, creating a disturbance and being guilty of improper and disorderly conduct.

Bids Officer Farewell

When Officer Worzalla went on duty Monday night he was instructed to take Zwara into custody if he could find him. While the former was standing near the Meyer drug store at Main street and the Public square, the latter approached from N. Second street, failing to see Mr. Worzalla until he had almost reached him. One glance convinced him that it was time to retract his steps. "Good-bye!" Zwara shouted and turned about and ran. The officer took up the chase, which continued across the square and up North Second street. Zwara slipped and fell but regained his footing in time to escape. At the intersection of Normal avenue he turned east on that street, still pursued. Mr. Worzalla finally pulled out his revolver after the race had continued almost to the Myers house, discharging the weapon in the air two times. That ended the race. Zwara toppled over on the ice and fell in a heap and was promptly arrested and taken to the county jail to join the five who had previously been arrested.

Six Plead Guilty

This morning in court before Judge W. F. Owen all six men entered pleas of guilty to the same charge and were given fines of $5 and costs, the total for each amounting to $8.95. The men are Joseph Zwara, Alex Esker, Ed. Bartkowiak, Sylvester Klicinski, Joseph Kubisiak and Ed. Jenecki.

Where Trouble Started

The trouble which finally resulted in the arrest of the six started on the South side early Monday morning, according to the police. Officer Herbert Peck, on duty in that district, reports having twice warned the group to go home, but states that they returned a third time. This time he started in to arrest them and after loading several into an auto owned by one of the number, noticed Esker making a hasty getaway. A pursuit started and the prisoner was overtaken, but upon the return to the place where the others had been it was found they had left. Esker was taken to the county jail and one by one during the day the five others were brought in as they were arrested.

Another drunk and disorderly case which came up in court today swells the total to seven. Stanley Chetek, arrested Monday night on a local street, pleaded guilty to a drunk and disorderly charge before Judge Owen and was assessed a fine of $5 and costs, totalling in all $9.70.

15 Liquor Cases

Thus in two days time the local police have brought into court 15 men on charges involving liquor or alleged liquor. The appearance in county court on Monday of the eight young men on moonshine charges resulted from the police raid last Friday and the seven drunk and disorderly cases today raised the total to 15.

NATIVE OF CITY HERE ON A VISIT

WILLIAM GOTTRY, NOW A PROSPEROUS RANCH OWNER IN THE WEST, SPENDS DAY WITH FRIENDS

William Gottry, a native Stevens Pointer who left here upwards of 30 years ago and has made very infrequent trips to this city, spent Monday among local friends and left for Pine City, Minn., this morning to visit a few days with his younger brother, Walter Gottry, publisher of The Pioneer, a weekly newspaper.

Mr. Gottry had been at Amherst, a guest at the home of his sister, Mrs. O. O. Penny. He is now the owner of a big cattle ranch in Montana, located about 65 miles southwest of Miles City, and is meeting with financial prosperity. His ranch comprises more than 700 acres and produces an abundance of natural fodder for livestock. Mr. Gottry's son, who enlisted in the World war as a member of a Minnesota regiment, made the supreme sacrifice in France, the only member of his company who was killed in battle.

TO FILL ALL IMPORTANT OFFICES WITH REPUBLICANS PROMPTLY AFTER MAR. 4

Rock Ledge, Fla., Jan. 25—Every important office to be vacated by the outgoing administration will be filled promptly after March 4, so the government machinery can continue without a hitch, according to present plans of President-elect Harding.

His intention is to make appointments by March 4 for diplomatic posts, the interstate commerce commission, federal reserve board, assistant cabinet secretaryships and other places, so the senate can confirm them at once. The senate, it is expected, will be kept in session continuously from March 4, when it meets to confirm the cabinet appointments, until the extra session begins around April.

POOR MEMORY MAY COST DEFENDANT 30 DAYS IN JAIL

MARSHFIELD MAN GIVEN UNTIL WEDNESDAY BY JUDGE PARK TO REMEMBER WHO SOLD HIM MOONSHINE

Chris Guckenberger of Marshfield told Judge B. B. Park in circuit court at Wisconsin Rapids on Monday morning that he was guilty of selling moonshine but he denied that he had manufactured it. When the judge asked him where he got it Guckenberger said he knew the man when he saw him, but he didn't know his name. It will cost the defendant just $100 besides the costs of the case if he remembers the name or not, but if he hasn't recalled it or found it out by Wednesday he will serve 30 days in the county jail in addition to the fine.

Mr. Guckenberger returned to Marshfield following the court proceedings, intent upon finding out the name of the man from whom he had been making his purchases. He was arrested by the Marsnfield police and the state authorities when they raided his place near Marshfield and took four gallons of moonshine. He admitted that he was selling the liquor. Guckenberger is a veteran of the Civil war and is 73 years of age.

BLODGETT COMPANY IS MADE DEFENDANT

MARSHFIELD FIRM MUST ANSWER CHARGE OF VIOLATING STATE LAW ON 176 COUNTS

The C. E. Blodgett & Sons company of Marshfield is made defendant in an action started in Wood county charging it with violation of the cold storage laws of the state on 176 counts. The charges are brought by District Attorney F. W. Calkins, Chas. J. Kremer of the dairy and food commision and Attorney General Wm. J. Morgan and have been filed with the clerk of court at Wisconsin Rapids.

The first charge of the complaint which has been filed alleges that the company operated its cold storage warehouse at Marshfield for a period of 40 days or more prior to December 20 without having a license from the dairy and food commissioner. The counts are all based on alleged storage of eggs which the authorities claim were not properly marked with the date of storage and other requirements of the state law.

According to the claim of Attorney General Morgan, the Marshfield company had 825 thirty pound cans of liquid eggs which he alleges it held for nearly a year and then shipped to the Wisconsin Cold Storage company at Milwaukee, to the account of Armour & Co., of Chicago. Liquid eggs, ones which have become cracked or broken and are churned and frozen into 30 pound cans, are used by bakeries.

BROKEN CAR WHEEL DAMAGES SOO TRACK

ACCIDENT OCCURS NEAR WITHEE ON SUNDAY MORNING DELAYING PASSENGERS NOS 3 AND 4

Soo line passenger trains Nos. 3 and 4 were delayed Sunday morning on account of a peculiar accident occurring to a car on extra freight No 2110 westbound, just west of Withee, which damaged a section of track three miles in length so that it had to be gone over by a section crew before it was safe for traffic.

The tim of one of the wheels of the car became broken and the wheel was derailed. As the wheel was pulled along the track it cut off the bolts on the inside of the rails and damaged the track so badly that it was necessary for a section crew to repair it. The damaged car was hauled to Lombard, a distance of three miles, damaging the track the entire distance.

The freight was in charge of Engineer George Mueller, 207 Oak street, this city, and Conductor Thomas Matthews.

JUDGE PARK RULES ON 'PHANTOM LOT'

PROPERTY WHICH EXISTS ONLY ON PAPER IS INVOLVED IN ACTION DECIDED BY COURT

RECTIFIES OLD MISTAKE

DECISION EXPRESSES HOPE CITY OF STEVENS POINT WILL REVISE TAX ROLL

A "phantom lot" on which the city of Stevens Point has persisted in levying taxes is declared non-existant in a decision of Judge B. B. Park of the circuit court for Portage county.

Judge Park's decision, handed down on Monday, was in the case of the N. Boyington company, a corporation, vs. Martin Wilczynski and Rosalia Puzdrowski. The action was brought to obtain possession of property described in a tax deed held by the plaintiff corporation or reimbursement of money paid for the deed. A friendly settlement of the claim was effected, both defendants paying to the plaintiff the amount of money it had paid in taxes and the tax deed being declared void. For the sake of clarity, Judge Park, in his decision, went into the details of the case and expressed the hope that the city of Stevens Point would rectify the mistake in the city plat, a mistake which the county board recognized and acted upon in 1916.

The property described in the tax deed purchased by the N. Boyington company is what is marked on the plat as lot 21, block 2 of Strong, Ellis and Others' addition to the city of Stevens Point. It is situated on Portage street, in the Fourth ward. In his decision Judge Park said:

Takes City to Task

"This lawsuit and the attendant expenses to the litigants and to the taxpayers of Portage county is the result of the persistent and repeated false assessment by the city of Stevens Point of property which does not now exist except on paper. It is devoutly hoped the city will do the right thing by conceiling this year's tax, and in the future tax the land in the block not according to the ancient and erroneous plat, but as the land is actually owned and occupied.

"Said block 20, according to the plat, shows eight lots facing on Portage street, each lot having a frontage of 50 feet, making the length of the block, on paper 400 feet. In fact the block is but 364 feet 4 inches long—14 feet and 4 inches longer than the length required to make seven lots and 35 feet and 8 inches less than eight lots.

"Every owner of land in the block, except Martin Wilczynski and Rosalia Puzdrowski, has all and every statute of limitations running in his or her favor, and owns absolutely the land occupied by him or her regardless of the description by lots. All fences in the block, except only that between Martin Wilczynski and Rosalia Puzdrowski, have been maintained by the owners thereof for more than 25 years.

"In 1893 Frank Slowinski bought from Mrs. Adelaide Hungerford lots 21 and 22 of said block. In 1893 the lots in the block east of lot 20 had been at that time fenced and occupied under claim of title for more than 20 years. This included lots 17, 18 and 19. There was, therefore, no chance for the owners of lots 20, 21 or 22 to crowd east of the fence that bounded the west line of lot 19. Lots 23 and 24 had at that time also been occupied and fenced under claim of title for more than 25 years, and there was, therefore, no chance for the owners of lots 20, 21 and 22 to crowd west of the fence on the west line of lot 23.

Ownership Settled

"In 1898 Slowinski who owned lots 21 and 22, commenced suit against Mr. Harbaugh, who owned lot 20 and was insisting that his lot 20 was where Mr. Slowinski said was his lot 21. That suit never was tried in court. In 1904 John Wallace bought from Slowinski lots 21 and 22, and shortly after bought from Harbaugh lot 20, thus settling forever the controversy as to the lost lot as between everybody owning the land then or thereafter in that block. Mr Wallace divided the land he got from Slowinski and Harbaugh into two parts. He sold one part as lot 22 to the defendant Martin Wilczynski's grantor in 1906, and sold the other part to Rosalia Puzdrowski. He gave these two people possession of all the land he got from Slowinski and Harbaugh, and they have been in the actual occupation of the land that they so got.

Put Teeth in Truancy Law

(From the School Bell, Issued by the Publicity Committee of the Wisconsin Teachers' Association.)

A bill to put teeth into the truancy law will undoubtedly be introduced in the present session of the legislature. It is agreed by county superintendents, the department of education, the state board of education, and the legislative committee of the Wisconsin Teachers' association that the present school attendance law does not get results.

Figures show that it certainly has not got results.

One of the total enrollment of children in the country schools in 19[illegible] only [illegible] went to school six months or more. In the city sixty-eight and one-half per cent of the children enrolled were in school eight months.

What sort of business sense is this which permits the people of Wisconsin to run their largest public plant—the public schools—on a seventy per cent basis? These schools are planned for and designed for the number of pupils enrolled—but actually only 65 to 70 per cent of them are using the plant. Children who go to school so irregularly that they are in school less than six months a year can't be said to be getting an education at all. The people of the state recognized this when they enacted a compulsory education law which said that all children between the ages of seven and fourteen should be in school at least six months in the country and eight months in the city; children between fourteen and sixteen should be there unless working under special permits, in which case they must go to part time schools. The people felt, and rightly, that every child is entitled to an education,—not merely a few days or weeks in a schoolroom. They felt that no one—not even the parents—should deprive that child of an education—they felt that the people as a whole are entitled to say that every child shall have an education because the welfare of the state depends on the education of its citizens, and the state cannot afford ignorant citizens.

The state has erected a great expensive public school system, planned on the basis of every child in school six to eight or ten months a year. The intention of the people is not being carried out when only seventy per cent of those enrolled go to school even six or eight months a year. The power to enforce the compulsory education law, backed by public opinion, will give the people of the state the use of the schools instead of only seventy per cent use.

Watch Your—Auto!

The recent action of the supreme court of the United States in upholding that section of the Volstead law which says that a vehicle may be held when it is used for the transportation of intoxicating liquor illegally, should be of interest to a large number of persons. The decision should discourage the promiscuous loaning of automobiles or other conveyances when there is any reason to suspect the use to which the [illegible] put. It seems fair to pay safe [illegible] to regret the loss [illegible] by confiscation.

The action of [illegible] court was based on [illegible] origin [illegible] of [illegible] property [illegible] taken possession [illegible] it had been used [illegible] in violation of [illegible] who read the [illegible] quoted from [illegible] that an [illegible] or injure [illegible] condemnation of [illegible] case [illegible] sent to death.

[illegible]

The Middleman

A speaker working in Portage county for the American Society of Equity says there "are too many middlemen." He implies that there should be some middlemen. If there are "too many" the inference is that there should be some. Which is more than some rural speakers will admit.

The middleman has his place. No business has ever been conducted successfully on a large scale without some agency to serve as go-between from the producer to the consumer. Commerce is founded on that theory. Indeed that is what commerce is.

The merchants, going back to ancient days, who bought the products of one country to sell to the people of other, and took back other goods in exchange, were middlemen. A moment's thought should convince anyone that there must be middlemen. But there can be too many. A series of middlemen passing goods from one to another and adding to the cost at each step is not needed. And the producer can himself organize his own system instead of hiring others to do the middleman's work. But the service must be rendered in some way by somebody.

Legislative Tinkering

It cannot be denied that there is a surplus of legislation by congress and the legislatures of the state. Economy is affiliated with [illegible] in the people's [illegible] about [illegible] would give strict observance to it if they were familiar with them.

Legislatures of nearly every state are spending time and money attempting to cure by legal enactment evils which can be overcome only by the exercise of ordinary common sense. A state tries something new for two or three years—hardly long enough to demonstrate its practibility or lack of it—and certain interests become active in bringing about the passage of a repeal bill, at the same time proposing something else that will be just as much of an experiment. There is considerable uncertainty in industry and trade, but this uncertainty is aggravated by the hit-and-miss methods used in adoption of much legislation in the last few years. It might be well to clear the statute books of a large number of laws that are inoperative and ineffective.

But there is little reason to hope that anything will be done along the lines suggested. When a man is sent to congress or the state legislature, he goes with the idea that he was chosen for the purpose of making changes in the laws, and he proceeds to go as far as his fellow members will permit. Fewer laws and more obedience to basic principles might help to overcome the spirit of lawlessness now giving so much concern to the authorities.

Defects in Co-operative Movements

The closing of a co-operative store conducted by employes of the treasury department at Washington furnishes an appropriate text for a few pertinent observations on the subject of co-operative movements in general, and government operation, or communistic operation, toward which the co-operative movement tends. The store conducted by the employes of the treasury department was not a government undertaking in any respect, unless, perhaps, the employes had the use of some government space in buildings for their enterprise. The scheme was started in an effort to beat the high cost of living, in the belief that by buying wholesale the large group of employes could get supplies at prices lower than charged by the retail stores. There were originally some 6200 members of the co-operative association [illegible] 4700 dropped out. Each of them had paid a membership fee of $5 as working capital and the 1,700 got their money [illegible] Whether the remaining 4500 [illegible] all or a considerable part of [illegible] the story [illegible] that the [illegible] development of the co-operative [illegible] private management, the separate ticket offices are being opened again. With the consolidated ticket office in control of all the ticket selling, the patron could take the service he was given or go without. The natural development was a spirit of haughtiness sometimes bordering on insolence on the part of the ticket sellers. "The public be damned" was just superseding the old plan of "the public be served," which had been built up under a system of competition for business. With separate ticket offices ready to serve the public, there is always the incentive to please patrons in order that their future patronage may be retained.

Press dispatches do not tell us what kind of personal attention the members of the co-operative store association in Washington received, but unless human nature is different there from what it is elsewhere, the tendency was for the managers of the co-operative store to be lax in their efforts to please. The managers had no particular incentive to work overtime in order to please their customers. The farm store made every effort to please, and, in addition, were so situated as to enable them to give a more convenient service.

This will it usually be in any communistic undertaking, and particularly will it be true in a government enterprise, which [illegible] employs [illegible] enable him [illegible]

The Gloomy Period That Didn't Come To Pass

[illegible] defined by [illegible] no normal condition. [illegible] business man has come to [illegible] continuance of wartime prosperity with its attendant circumstances of credit inflation, high wages, high prices, reckless spending, and public and private waste, is impossible. He has come to see also that the black pessimism of a few months ago was not justified by any intelligent estimate of the economic situation. Worry and fear have given way to clear judgement and courage. The disposition now is to face the facts calmly and to make such use of them as records with the peculiar initiative and enterprise of our people. Judge Gary refers to the phenomenon as the better "temper of business men." Governor Harding of the Federal Reserve Board calls it "a more normal state of mind." Others have their own expressions, but all agree that the prevailing feature of the business outlook is just now the change that has come over the mental processes of business men.

Nothing has happened to bring about this change, except possibly the failure of some of the dire predictions that have been agitating the country, particularly in recent months. Those who have from the beginning held that fundamental and not ephemeral factors would determine the course of economic events in this country have never thought that there was imminent danger of any such collapse as was forecast in quarters less well informed or less capable of interpreting conditions. Their attitude seems now to be justified by the complete change of spirit rather than by any turn of events. It may be added that there could not possibly be a better foundation for an actual revival of business.—From Statement by Guaranty Trust Company of New York.

[illegible] ranks 21st in road development. In the Hoosier state 42.3 per cent of the roads are now improved. In the Buckeye state the percentage is 23.8. Nebraska, however, is at the foot of all the states with improved highways, the ratio of only three-tenths of one per cent. Nebraska has only a little over 250 miles of surfaced roads out of a total of 80,338. Kansas is also near down the list, having only one per cent of her roads classed as improved. Ohio has the greatest good road mileage with 28,312 miles in fairly good shape.

The meeting will bring together men in every part of the country, the national and scientific men identified with highway construction and maintenance, the men who will be responsible for the expenditure of the vast sums available for highway work. Here they will discuss from every angle the many problems connected with the construction, administration, [illegible] and maintenance of national, state, county and city highways.

Equity News Service

Equity Organization

The board of directors of the Wisconsin state union, American Society of Equity, have devised a plan of organization which it is believed will result in a closer working effort all around, a plan which will be fair to the organizers as well as members, and one whereby all who take part in the organization drive will, in some measure, be compensated for their time and effort. The drive in the various counties selected will occupy a period of about thirty days during which time every active farmer in the county will be given an opportunity to join forces with the Equity society. Fifty thousand members before the next Equity convention is the goal set by the board of directors.

Washington Affiliation

Owing to a large amount of agricultural legislation pending at the national capital at all times it is desirable that farm organizations such as the Society of Equity should have effective representation at the national capital.

With this subject in view, the Equity Society of Wisconsin has formed an affiliation with the national board of farm organizations of Washington, D. C. This organization, as the name implies, is formed of directors elected by various farm organizations throughout the country, and officiates as their Washington representative in all matters touching the needs of the farmers in a national legislative way. The N. B. F. O. has many times demonstrated its usefulness, and exercises an important influence on legislation in congress. Chas. A. Lyman, a Wisconsin man, is secretary of the organization and a large number of the more active farm organizations are affiliated with it. The membership of the N. B. F. O.

Equity Raises Dues

The Equity Society has found it necessary to increase dues from $2.50 to $5.00 per year. The fee for joining remains the same as heretofore; viz.: $2.50 for each new member. The new rates went into effect January 1, 1921. The last week of 1920 witnessed a very heavy payment of dues at the state secretary's office in Madison on the part of members throughout the state who desired to avail themselves of the old schedule of dues while there was yet time.

It is only human nature for members to avail themselves of the former schedule and they are not to be criticized for so doing. However, it is self-evident that in practical results the state treasury will not receive a very substantial benefit from the new dues schedule for some months to come. To overcome this difficulty, individual members, local and county unions are lending their individual credit to the state organization temporarily in order that the work of organization may be pushed vigorously during the coming winter season. Notwithstanding the necessary raise in dues, the Equity Society still remains the cheapest farm organization, as far as dues are concerned, of any of the farm societies doing business in this state.

AUTO EXCHANGE BURNS

A fire which destroyed the building occupied by the Oshkosh Auto Exchange at Oshkosh caused a total loss estimated at nearly $30,000. Thirty-two automobiles were destroyed.

ELEVEN STATES LOSE

TO HAVE FEWER MEMBERS OF CONGRESS UNDER NEW APPORTIONMENT

Washington, January 20—Under the plan of apportionment of members of congress, based on the census of 1920, eleven states lose and eight states gain representatives, while twenty-nine states, including Wisconsin suffer no change.

Missouri loses two members and Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maine, Mississippi, Nebraska, Rhode Island, and Vermont one each.

California gains three, Michigan and Ohio two each, and Connecticut, New Jersey, North Carolina, Texas, and Washington one each.

Loss of representation is most pronounced in the great agrarian constituencies of the west and south, in which the drift of population from rural to urban communities has been most pronounced.

CHECK FORGER IS WANTED HERE ON MANY COUNTS

TWO LOCAL STORES VICTIMIZED IN THREE TRANSACTIONS AND ATTEMPTS MADE TO SWINDLE FOUR OTHER PLACES

ONE FIRM IS TWICE LOSER

FRAUDULENT CHECKS CASHED REPRESENT A LOSS OF MORE THAN $200

(From hursday's Daily)

Fraudulent checks totalling more than $200 have been passed on two Stevens Point business houses within recent weeks and attempts made to swindle at least four other local firms in the same length of time. Authorities have been quietly working on the cases in an effort to apprehend the guilty person or persons but up to today have made no arrests.

Three different names were used on three checks cashed at two places and the respective amounts were $48, $68 and $85. In each case the person tendering the check made a purchase, receiving more than half of the balance in cash.

Worzalla Cashes Check

The first case of this nature came to light just before Christmas when a young man, perhaps 30 years of age, purchased a bill of goods at the J. Worzalla & Sons dry goods store at 408 Main street, tendering in payment a check on a local bank made payable to "John Campbell" and signed "Jackson Milling company." The total of the articles purchased amounted to less than half of the amount of the check and the purchaser received the balance in cash. Sensing something wrong the proprietor of the store attempted to call back the man a few minutes after he left the store but it was found that he had lost no time in disappearing. The check was found to be fraudulent.

Reton Store Loser

On January 11 a young man walked into the Reton Bros. jewelry store on Main street and purchased a $20 watch, tendering a check for $85 on a Wausau bank which was made payable to "Leo Bayer" and bore the signature of "A. J. Anderson." Not questioning the check and believing it had been issued by the Anderson Lumber company of Wausau to one of its woods workers, the firm honored it and paid the patron the balance in cash. Two days later another young man came in, purchased a $20 watch and tendered a check for $68, drawn on the same Wausau bank and signed by the same man but made payable to "Anton Brutom." This was also honored and the balance paid in cash after the purchase had been made by the customer. After the checks had made their way through the regular banking channels they were returned from Wausau labeled "signature unauthorized."

Turned Down at Sroda's

Efforts to cash a check, presumably fraudulent, were made between the time of the Worzalla incident and the occurrance at the Reton store, this case being reported at the Frank Sroda grocery on South Second street. A young man answering the description of the one who visited the Worzalla store purchased groceries to the value of $11 at the Sroda store just before closing time on Friday, January 7, tendering in payment a check for $62, drawn on a local bank and again bearing the signature The Jackson Milling company. The check was questioned here, however, and a clerk sent across the street to inquire at another business place whether it should be honored. A negative answer was returned and the check given back to the young man, who explained that he would hurry to the Jackson Milling company's office and get it cashed there before the office closed. He hastily departed in a sleigh driven by a team of horses, leaving his groceries behind, and failed to return to the store. He was seen in Stevens Point the next day. The Sroda grocery reports that this man had been a regular customer of the store in weeks past but had always before paid cash for his purchases. The proprietors are unable to account for the incident of January 7.

With stories filtering out of the cashing of these fraudulent checks and the apparent attempt to repeat the same performance at the Sroda store, additional interest came to light of similar attempts in other local business places.

Local Garage Visited

Just before Christmas [illegible] of perhaps 30 dropped in at the office of the Northern Motor Car company, inquiring as to [illegible] find the dealer of a certain make of car which he named. He was given directions and further accompanied by an official to take him to where he agreed. In the chat [illegible] the stranger at one time became interested in the car in question and was seated making various inquiries of the driver one of the garage proprietors. He believed the car would make a good Christmas present for his wife, he said.

The prospective purchaser returned to the Northern garage a day or two later and was driven to Wisconsin Rapids by the salesman that he was there and should see the car before he purchased it. He was unable to find her and upon their return to Stevens Point after the man had touched upon the subject of cashing a check without receiving any encouragement, the prospective purchaser departed.

Makes Another Attempt

A case with similar circumstances came to light at the O. A. Young sales room last week when the same young man entered the place with the apparent intention of purchasing a car. He finally selected the machine he wanted, ordered some extra parts and started to write out a check in payment. The bill came to $1,017 but he asked to add an extra $10 which Mr. Young should cash, so that he might have some spending money and his wife not know that the extra ten was not included in the purchase price of the car.

Mr. Young called a local bank on which the check was to be drawn after the stranger had given his name as Elmer Oestreich and his address as Nelson. He was informed that Mr. Oestreich did not have an account there. The latter immediately stepped to the 'phone and feigning anger, challenged the bank's answer, declaring his wife had just deposited $2,100 there and stating it was a peculiar state of affairs if he couldn't draw a thousand dollars out of the account. The deal fell through and the prospective purchaser departed.

Wants Car At Once

Again Mr. "Oestreich" is heard from, this time at the Stevens Point garage on Ellis street. He went there from the Young establishment, intent upon purchasing at once a Cadillac car, according to the story. When informed that immediate delivery of the car was impossible the stranger suddenly changed his mind and decided to buy a truck. An appointment was made for the same evening and in the meantime the police informed Chief of Police John S. Hofsoos and Arthur Reiter waited at the garage office but the man they sought failed to appear. An anonymous 'phone call inquiring for the prospective purchaser, which came in while the men waited, failed to clear matters up.

Taxi Man Loser

The man who visited the Overland sales room drove up in a taxi after coming here on a south bound train on the Soo. He instructed the taxi driver to return for him at 4 o'clock. The call was made for him at the schedule hour but he was not on hand. Incidentally the taxi fine has a small bill for service which is unpaid.

Visited Bancroft

Reports from Bancroft state that a young man, not known there, and being short of cash and in a hurry to make connections to Wisconsin Rapids, persuaded the owner of a billiard establishment to cash a check for $5 which was later found to be fraudulent. He had requested that a check for $25 be cashed, according to the story, but the owner of the place did not have that much on hand.

County authorities have followed every clue as to the identity and whereabouts of the man or men who are believed to be implicated in the series of events which transpired here but have so far been unsuccessful in their efforts.

Old Timer's Column

Many years ago Mr. Jim Gray kept store on Clark street. Mr. Gray also bought furs. One Jones (that wasn't his real name) also bought furs and was a keen rival of Mr. Gray in the business. At that time there were very few foxes in this part of Wisconsin, and some varieties were not much known. A farmer who had captured a "wood gray" fox, a species very little known hereabouts brought the skin to Stevens Point and offered it for sale on the market square. The first man to look at the skin was Mr. Jones, who truthfully informed the farmer that the skin was that of a wood gray fox and that the pelt was werth 75 cents or $1. He also told the farmer that there was a variety of fox known as silver gray that was worth a large sum. In fact, he said, one had been captured somewhere that had brought the owner $200. Mr. Gray had without doubt heard of this same silver gray fox skin being sold for $200, but Mr. Gray did not know as much about foxes as Mr. Jones. While Mr. Jones and the farmer were talking, Mr. Gray was seen approaching, and Mr. Jones said to the farmer, "Here comes Mr. Gray. You can sell him this skin for a silver gray." Mr. Jones held up the skin in full view of Mr. Gray and called out, "Here is where you get a silver gray." He then laid the skin down and walked away. The farmer was too honest to sell his fox for a silver gray, but he saw a chance to sell at a good price. So when Mr. Gray asked the price the farmer replied that he did not know much about furs, but would be willing to sell for $10, which sum Mr. Gray willingly paid. Result: A satisfied farmer with $10, when he expected only $1; a satisfied merchant who thought he had made a good purchase, and a satisfied Mr. Jones, who had helped put one over on his rival.

RING LEADER ADMITS THEFT FROM FARMER

TWO OF FIVE ORIGINAL DEFENDANTS DISCHARGED BY COURT AND THREE OTHERS ARE PLACED UNDER ARREST

ROSHOLT RESIDENT NINTH MAN TAKEN

BARNEY CHILLA IS DEFENDANT FROM WHOM IT IS CHARGED ALLEGED LIQUOR WAS STOLEN

(From Monday's Daily.)

Nine men were defendants on moonshine charges in county court before Judge W. F. Owen this morning, including the five who were arrested last Friday afternoon following a police raid on an old building in the former Clifford lumber yard, three others who were implicated by the five and one man from whom it is charged the alleged liquor was stolen.

Three Plead Guilty

Three of the five arersted Friday, Frank Dayo, Michael Rogaczewski and Joseph Grulkowski, pleaded guilty Saturday afternoon and this morning were given their choice of paying fines of $100 and costs of $7.21 each or the alternative of spending not more than 30 days in the county jail. In default of payment they were returned to jail and had not raised the money up to this afternoon.

Two Discharged

The two others arrested Friday, Frank Rogaczewski and Frank Garzamka, pleaded not guilty and have been discharged by the court. Their discharge followed testimony to the effect that their part in the affair consisted only in helping to pour the alleged moonshine which the police seized.

Joseph Stanczyk, Edward Majeski and Steve Paluskewicz, the three who were implicated, pleaded not guilty and trial of their cases was set for Friday morning of this week. In default of bail in the sum of $300 each they were taken to the county jail.

Rosholt Man Defendant

The ninth complaint was against Barney Chilla of Rosholt, from whom it is charged the alleged liquor was stolen. Chilla entered a plea of not guilty and trial of his case was set for next Monday. He made provision late this morning to furnish $300 bail.

Admits Stealing Jug

Frank Dayo, one of the three defendants who pleaded guilty, was the principal witness in court proceedings on Saturday afternoon and admitted to the court that he stole the jug of alleged moonshine from a farmer's sleigh which stood at the corner of North First street and Normal avenue Friday afternoon. His testimony and that of Grulkowski implicated the three others and the case was held open until today by the court in view of this evidence. Dayo was questioned closely both Saturday afternoon and this morning and told of seeing a man drive up in a sleigh and then cover up a jug of alleged liquor before driving away. After watching him for fifteen minutes Dayo went to the rig and took the jug he related being joined by his friends, who accompanied him to the former lumber yard, several of the young men taking turns in carrying the spoils. Asked by the court where they got the bottles which they were found filling when the raid was staged he said they found them near the building. Dayo declared he did not know the name of the man from whom they stole the jug.

Tells of Farmers' Losses

He told the court [illegible] farmers who come to the public square had been missing [illegible] in the past, although [illegible] he had taken any [illegible] this kind. "Everybody [illegible] it," he said [illegible] farmers. Wanted to Drink it

Joseph Grulkowski [illegible] guilty was also called on to testify and told that Dayo saw the farmer's sleigh first. Grulkowski declared he did not know the name of the farmer from whom the jug was stolen and denied knowledge that farmers were bringing moonshine to town. "What were you going to do with it?" the court asked him. "Drink it up," he answered. "Three gallons?" the court queried and Grulkowski replied "Well, as much as we could stand."

Didn't Help Steal Jug

Frank Rogaczewski, who was discharged by the court, claimed on Saturday that he joined the party after they had gone part way to their destination and didn't know where they got the jug, or what it contained until after they reached the building on the river bank, although he suspected that it contained the alleged liquor. These statements were confirmed in the testimony of Grulkowski who said Frank Rogaczewski joined them at Franklin and Forest streets.

Frank Garzamka told the court that he was at work about 300 feet away but joined the three defendants who pleaded guilty when they called him over. He didn't know anything about the affair before that time, he said but admitted that he helped to pour out the contents of the jug. Testimony given this morning also confirmed this story and resulted in the discharge of Frank Rogaczewski and Garzamka.

Three Disappear

Paluskewicz, one of the three were implicated and pleaded not guilty, went part way with the three who pleaded guilty, according to the testimony of Dayo on Saturday. When questioned closely Dayo said that Paluskewicz stood guard for a time in the lumber yard and that he was not seen after that.

It was further brought out that Majeski and Stanczyk, who also pleaded not guilty, also disappeared before the building was reached. Stanczyk was named by Dayo as the second man who helped carry the jug. Majeski told the court that he "just saw the sack" and then went around Pfiffner's mill, leaving the others in the lumber yard. Chief Hofsoos reported to the court that the three who were implicated but who were not found at the building ran when they saw the police, according to statements of boys who saw them. This was denied by Majeski.

Judge Owen asked Michael Rogaczewski if Dayo was not the one who was captain of the crowd and he answered the [illegible] as participant. Michael Rogaczewski replied that Dayo was the one who took the jug out of the sleigh.

To Analyze Spoils

The court called attention to the fact that no alleged moonshine had been introduced as evidence and that none of the defendants had tasted the contents of the jug according to their statements, citing Dayo's testimony that he could tell what it was by the smell. District Attorney R. J. Carpenter, who appeared for the state, informed the court that the contents of the jug was in his possession and that it would be analyzed before the trial of the three defendants who pleaded not guilty. He reported that its odor was similar to that of moonshine which had been seized in a case which had come up recently.

Police Give Testimony

Others called upon to testify were Chief John S. Hofsoos and Officer Frank Falkiewicz and John Przymark who told of the raid which resulted in the five original defendants being arrested at the building on the river bank and the alleged liquor seized.

At the close of the proceedings against the eight men Barney Chilla of Rosholt was arraigned and entered a plea of not guilty. The charge against him was the same as that against the other defendants, being that of having in their possession intoxicating liquor containing more than one half of one per cent of alcohol in violation of the Stalberger law.

It appears that the police who conducted the raid were tipped off by persons who overheard the former relating the loss of his jug and its contents.

BUZA IS LOSER IN CIVIL ACTION

CARSON FARMER SERVING STATE PRISON TERM CAN'T STOP NEIGHBOR FROM USING ROAD

INJUNCTION IS GRANTED

COSTS AND DISBURSEMENTS ARE ALSO LEVIED AGAINST DEFENDANT

John Buza, town of Carson farmer, who on December 21 was sentenced to the Wisconsin state prison at Waupun for six years following his conviction by a jury in circuit court on a charge of first degree manslaughter in connection with the death of his brother, Mrs. Anna Buza, is the loser in a civil action brought against him by a neighbor, Frank Slowinski and just decided by Circuit Judge B. B. Park.

The action was the result of a dispute over the right of Slowinski to use a "blind" road about five eights of a mile in length extending from the main Stevens Point Junction City road in the town of Carson from a point a short distance west of the Mill Creek Catholic church. Buza erected a fence across the road, about half way down, to block Slowinski and the latter brought suit. Judge Park's decision granted to Slowinski an injunction perpetually restraining the defendant from interfering with his use of the road.

Road Built Years Ago

Evidence brought out in the case showed that years ago when the Buza farm was owned by Anton Buza, father of John Buza, the town road or highway ran from the town of Stevens Point land east a half mile to Buza farm [illegible] road to the Buza farm [illegible] Prior to that time it ran to his father's. This original road was about a quarter of a mile long. From this point the Buzas [illegible] on a road to their fields and home, swinging slightly to the east of the eighth line. About [illegible] years ago this part of the road was moved west to the quarter line by John Buza. The point at issue in the Slowinski-Buza case was whether the plaintiff was entitled to the use of the road laid out by the Buzas.

Entitled to Use

Judge Park in his decision ruled that that part of the road built by the Buzas did not become a public highway, but upheld the right of Slowinski to use it. "The plaintiff built his house and barns some eight years ago with a belief in his right to the road to the Stevens Point Junction City road," said Judge Park. "John Buza about that time or shortly before moved the road over to the quarter line. He knew that the plaintiff had built believing he had an outlet, and it must be held that he, John Buza, also then believed the same thing. The building and maintaining this road and moving the road may be sufficient to dedicate the strip to the public though the town never has accepted or acquiesced in it so as to make it a public highway which the town is bound to maintain.

By whatever name it may be called the plaintiff has by prescription a [illegible] rods wide, using the north and south quarter line as the center thereof, from the north eighth line down south opposite and west of the location of the old Buza house and barns. His use of the road as [illegible] before John Buza moved it and his use of the strip after the road was moved was one continuous use of a way under a claim of right [illegible] than 20 years before John Buza [illegible] shortly before the [illegible] was moved.

FARM INVENTION IN STATE MUSEUM

ORIGINAL MODEL OF APPLEBY KNOTTER ON DISPLAY AT MADISON AS A GREAT INVENTION

In a little glass case in the east wing of the Wisconsin State Historical museum rests the original of one of the greatest of modern agricultural inventions.

The Appleby knotter is only a little thing, hardly a handful, yet it made possible the great western wheat fields and leadership as a grain country.

John Francis Appleby conceived the idea of binding grain with twine when only fifteen years old. He worked at this idea for three years and at the age of eighteen he invented the now famous Appleby twine knotter, a simple device for mechanically knotting the twine used to tie the grain bundles.

The original model now in the museum was made for Mr. Appleby by Harvey Pierce, a gunsmith of Palmyra, Wisconsin, in June 1858.

Just twenty years later the invention was put into successful use at Beloit, Wisconsin, when 115 binders were made and sold by Mr. Appleby and his associates Charles H. Parker and Gustavus Stone. These binders were distributed throughout the middle west.

At the Paris Exposition 1900, Mr. Appleby was awarded two medals, one a gold the other of bronze, in recognition of his contribution to agriculture. These medals were recently presented to the museum by the [illegible] of the estate.

NARROW ESCAPE FOR LOCAL MAN

JOHN JOHNSON MISSES HIS FOOTING AND IS DRAGGED ALONG BETWEEN CARS ON MOVING TRAIN

RICHARDS ISSUES WARNING

MANGLED BODY MAY BE REPORTED NEXT TIME, SOO OFFICIAL DECLARES

With only the grip of one hand to keep him from being crushed under the wheels of a freight train, John Johnson, 236 St. Louis avenue, an employe of the Soo line repair track departmnet, was dragged for several rods between two flat cars on train No. 2412, westbound, last week Tuesday afternoon, and escaped without injury.

Misses His Footing

The accident occurred as the train was leaving this city. Johnson, with his dinner pail in one hand, tried to climb on the moving freight train, missed his footing, and hanging onto the car with one hand, was dragged for several rods between two cars.

Fellow workmen running along the side of the car to which Johnson was hanging, attracted the attention of the train crew and the brakes were set. As soon as the speed of the train was sufficiently checked, Johnson was pulled up on the car with no worse injury than an exhausted arm. The train was in charge of Conductor M. J. O'Brien of this city.

Warning to Others

"Johnson's narrow escape from serious injuries at the least and probably death, is another warning to everyone not to try to board a moving freight train," said L. D. Richards, chief clerk at the local Soo line office. "In the next accident of this sort, we may report a mangled body, in the undertaking parlors."

Don't Let Your Battery Freeze

When you store your car this winter you will drain your radiator, jack the car off the tires and put it in proper shape for the "long winter's nap."

But don't forget your battery. Unless kept fully charged it may freeze and frozen batteries aren't worth repairing.

The "safety first" thing to do is to have us store it under proper conditions. It only costs a little, but it means that you will get your battery again in the spring in the best possible condition. A little forethought NOW may save a repair bill or the purchase of a new battery in the spring.

POLICE INVADE OLD BUILDING ON RIVER BANK

ALLEGED VIOLATORS FOUND ON FLOOR OF SMALL ROOM DIVIDING THE SPOILS OF A THREE GALL- ON JUG

MEN HAND-CUFFED MARCHED TO JAIL

JUG AND BOTLES SEIZED BY OFFICERS WHO CARRY OUT RAID AFTER RECEIV- ING "TIP-OFF"

(From Saturday's Daily.)

Acting on a "tip" from a local citizen, members of the Stevens Point police department, headed by Chief of Police John S. Hofsoos, carried out a "moonshine" raid here on Friday afternoon, taking five local men into custody and seizing nearly three gallons of alleged moonshine. The raid was staged in a vacant building near the east bank of the Wisconsin river near the former Clifford saw mill, and the quintet of men were handcuffed and escorted to the county jail.

The Men Arrested

The men placed under the arrest are Frank Rogazewski and Mike Rogazewski, brothers, Frank Dayo, Joseph Grulkowski and Frank Garzamka. Grulkowski is reported to be 18 years of age, while the others in the party are older. Garzamka resides in the town of Hull near the city limits. Three bottles and a jug of the alleged moonshine were taken by three officers who conducted the raid.

Visit Lumber Yards

Chief Hofsoos, Officer Frank Falkiewicz and Officer John Frymark started out Friday afternoon immediately following the "tip-off." They had been told that if they went to the Week Lumber company yards they would find "moonshiners." The Week and Pfiffner lumber yards were visited by the trio of officers without success. The search continued in the direction of the former Clifford mill. A man was seen in the distance carrying what appeared to be a sack on his back. He disappeared behind a building and the officers closed in and surrounded the place.

Found Dividing Spoils

Entering the building, which once had been used as a blacksmith shop, the officers heard the sound of voices in a corner of the interior, which was partitioned off into a small room about six feet square. The door was pushed open and the five men were found down on their knees pouring the alleged moonshine from a jug into bottles, apparently dividing the spoils.

Hand-cuffs Applied

They offered no resistance and had little to say. Hand-cuffs were quickly applied and the bottles and jug seized. One quart and two pint bottles and a three gallon jug were found. The contents of a fourth bottle was poured back into the jug to make it easier to carry. The march to town was begun, the eight men starting out for the county jail where the five taken into custody were placed in cells.

Taken into Court

The prisoners were taken into county court late this afternoon and arraigned on charge of violating the Mulberger act. They were accused of transporting and having in their possession liquor containing more than one-half of one per cent of alcohol. District Attorney Carpenter appeared for the state.

BIG DAM AT WAUSAU NEARLY COMPLETED

EXCEPTIONAL WEATHER HAS AIDED PROJECT OF WIS- CONSIN VALLEY ELEC- TRIC COMPANY

The big power dam of the Wisconsin Valley Electric company at Wausau is nearly completed. The water wheels and generators have been received and are being installed in the plant and a concrete roof is being laid on the building. The new power plant is 104 feet in height.

The company has been unusually fortunate in doing its work. The river remained at a low stage and weather conditions were favorable. Details of the big project will be completed during the next 90 days. The dam will be closed and the water raised as soon as the North Western railway company completes installing its new bridge in Wausau. The gates and spillways are reported to have a larger discharge capacity than any other dam on the river in proportion drainage area.

Mr. Onstad, in referring to the occasion of the meeting, declared that if Senator La Follette had been in Wisconsin he would have come to the Linwood school to attend the dedicatory program. Mr. Onstad spoke on the subject "Better Rural Conditions."

The dedication was largely attended and following the program a basket social was given. Mrs. O. Korslin is the teacher of the La Follette school.

ADDITIONAL ROOM AT RIVER PINES

DIRECTORS, AS RESULT OF SUC- CESSFUL YEAR, ARE CON- SIDERING ERECTION OF NEW BUILDINGS

INSTITUTION RATING HIGH

BECAUSE OF IT GOVERNMENT IS ANXIOUS TO SEND EX- SERVICE MEN HERE

The annual meeting of the stockholders of River Pines was held in Milwaukee on the 18th instant.

Dr. J. W. Coon, medical director, as well as president of the corporation, was present and was re-elected one of the directors, the other directors elected being Dr. F. E. Walbridge of this city, Dr. Gilbert E. Seaman, recently a candidate for governor, and Attorney Carl F. Geilfuss of Milwaukee and Wm. D. Matthews of Chicago.

Report for Year

Dr. Coon presented his annual report to the stockholders, from which the following statements are taken:

During the year patients have been received and treated from the following states: Wisconsin, Minnesota, Illinois, Iowa, Indiana, Ohio, Virginia and Florida, as well as several from as far away as Medicine Hat, Alberta, and Winnipeg.

The capacity of River Pines is 44, and the average number under treatment for the year 1920 was 42, or 95.5 per cent of its maximum capacity.

The ages of those treated ranged from 10 years to 55, more than 70 per cent, however, being between 20 and 40, the most productive years of life.

Of those received in the incipient stage of the disease all were discharged improved while of those that were moderately advanced 86 per cent were discharged more or less benefited whil 14 per cent failed of being helped.

Of those received in the far advanced stage, 21 in all, 72 per cent failed to show any improvement, while 28 per cent, even of those classed as far advanced, were more or less improved, while about 12 per cent were discharged with their disease apparently arrested or quiescent.

Filled Up

There has been throughout the year a waiting list, it not being possible to admit patients promptly, because of lack of room. From present indications the demand is likely to increase very materially, so that the directors are considering the erection of new buildings in the near future for the purpose of caring for the rapidly increasing patronage.

Ex-Service Men

In the past few months, two representatives of the United States Public Health service have visited River Pines for the purpose of inspecting and rating it according to the plan of standardization of sanitoria of the National Tuberculosis association. The rating given River Pines was 96 plus per cent, out of a possible 100, which is considered quite unusual, and because of this the highest rate of payment made by the government to any sanitorium is allowed for the care of ex-service men, of whom several are being cared for at the sanitorium.

Need One Plant

Every building of the sanatorium has its own separate heating plant, at present, and because of its much great economy, the installation of a central heating plant will no doubt be made in the near future.

While Warshak was making the repair the slack ran out of the train, knocking him down and catching his right heel under a wheel of the car. Warshak was taken to a hospital at Park Falls, where an examination showed a badly lacerated heel but did not disclose any fractured bones. The train was in charge of Conductor W. B. SOO LINE FREIGHT STRUCK BY NO. 17

ACCIDENT OCCURS AT LAKE VIL- LA WHEN DENSE FOG OB- STRUCTS VIEW—ENGI- NEER INJURED

Engineer William Finnegan of Fond du Lac received a severe cut on his head when he jumped from the locomotive of Soo line passenger No. 17, westbound, at 11 o'clock Friday evening, just before the engine struck the rear end of a freight train, demolishing the caboose and one empty box car on the main line of the Soo one-half mile south of Lake Villa, Ill.

The front of the locomotive of the passenger was also badly damaged. The accident blocked the main line, holding up passenger No. 4 about four hours and No. 3 about three hours and indirectly caused the death of the two section men who were killed by No. 3 at Thorp this morning, who believed the passenger had passed by hours before. An account of the tragedy at Thorp appears in another column of today's Journal.

The freight train was standing still on the track but due to the fog could not be seen by the crew of No. 17. The flagman on the freight ran down the track and signalled to the engineer of the passenger. Although Engineer Finnegan was unable to stop the train in tme he had succeeded in checking its speed to 10 or 12 miles an hour when the crash came.

Just before the crash Engineer Finnegan and Fireman H. G. Paaff of Fond du Lac jumped from their stations in the cab of the locomotive pulling the passenger. Mr. Finnegan received several severe cuts on his head but Paaff was uninjured. The engineer was taken on the train to his home in Fond du Lac.

A wrecker from Heine, Illinois, was called to clear the right of way and a locomotive from Lake Villa was placed the damaged one. George A. Beenah, 836 Elk street, Stevens Point, was the conductor on No. 17. The caboose of the freight was unoccupied at the time of the accident.

The lease on the land now occupied by my salesroom has been terminated to make way for the new building of the Hardware Insurance Companies. HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

STOCKHOLDERS OF CONSOLIDATED COMPANY MEET AT WISCONSIN RAPIDS

The annual stockholders' meeting of the Consolidated Water Power & Paper company was held at Wisconsin Rapids on Wednesday of last week, Carl Haertel of this city being among the out of town men present. Reports of the officers showed that the company had made big strides in its production and sales during the past year. The stockholders reelected G. W. Mead, Isaac P. Witter, R. K. Kaus, T. W. Brazeau and George Berkey as directors for the coming year. The present officers were re-elected as follows: President, George W. Mead; vice-president R. L. Kraus; secretary, Isaac P. Witter; secretary, E. B. Redford.

In his report to the stockholders, President Mead called attention to the fact that the print paper machines of the company were running as steadily as usual and that the firm was assured of a good market for their product because of the continued demand for newsprint. The sale of the tissue and lighter paper products of the Stevens Point mill was alluded to in Mr. Mead's report, which indicated that the company intends to enter into other lines of production to supply steady demand for lighter papers.

The body is now enronte to Port Huron, Mich., and is expected to pass through Stevens Point on Soo train No 2 at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. One of the daughters of the deceased, Mrs. Geo. THREE STORES ROBBED SUNDAY

BURGLARS BREAK INTO TWO DOWNTOWN BUSINESS PLACES AND ONE ON SOUTH SIDE

OVER $50 IN CASH STOLEN

MARAUDERS OVERLOOK $60 IN SILVER AT SOFT DRINK ESTABLISHMENT

(From Monday's Daily.)

Burglars broke into three Stevens Point business houses on Sunday afternoon and evening, stealing a total of $54.97 in cash, a revolver and two cartoons of cigarettes. Entrance to two of the places was gained by cutting through the panel of rear doors and at the third place by breaking in a basement window after attempts to enter by the door had failed.

Places Burglarized

The three places burglarized and the losses reported at each follow:

W. B. Pett grocery store on South side, $9.70 in cash and two cartons of cigarettes taken.

Peickert's Sanitary Meat Market, 451 Main street, 27 pennies stolen.

George Hoppa soft drink establishment, 202 Main street, $45 in cash and a revolver taken.

Cut Through Two Doors

Discovery of the burglary at the Pett store was made by Mr. Pett at 7:40 o'clock Sunday evening. The store had been entered some time during the afternoon or early evening as its proprietor had spent Sunday morning there, leaving at noon. Immediately upon entering his place of business Sunday evening Mr. Pett noticed that the tobacco case had been rifled and discovered the loss of two cartons of cigarettes. The sum of $9.70 which had been left in the cash registered at the front of the building was also found missing.

An investigation disclosed the fact that the building had been entered by a rear door, the burglar or burglars cutting out a hole in the paneling large enough to reach through and remove a bar which fastened the door. This outside door leads into a rear warehouse and is separated from the store by a second warehouse which was also locked. The marauders found it necessary to cut a hole through the second door and remove the bar which held it before entering the store. The curtains on the front windows were up at the time, but this failed to stop the work of stealing the cigarettes and cash at the front of the store.

Break Basement Window

Discovery of the burglary at the Hoppa soft drink establishment was made at 12:15 o'clock this morning by Night Officer John Worzalla, who found the rear door unlocked while making the rounds of business places. Mr. Hoppa was called and found that $45 in cash was missing from the cash register. This morning Roman Boyer, an employe, discovered the loss of a revolver which he had left on one side of the register.

The thieves at the Hoppa establishment overlooked a cigar container which was loaded to the top with silver. It contained $60 and stood only a few inches away from the cash register. The getaway was effected through a rear door, which had previously been cut through in two places in an unsuccessful attempt to enter that way A bar which held the door in place was fastened so securely that the person reaching through the hole in the paneling aparently could not remove it from the outside. A rear basement window was found broken in, the person or persons burglarizing the place evidently leaving through the door after removing the bar from the inside.

Get 27 Pennies

At the Peickert market a small hole was cut through a rear door and a bar removed, permitting entrance. The sum of 27 cents in pennies was taken from the cash register and three cents overlooked. Officer John Frymark found the door unlocked shortly after midnight and called Mr. Peickert.

At the Hoppa establishment it was reported that the cash is usually locked in the safe every evening but that when the place was closed on Sunday evening at 5:45 o'clock this was forgotten as Leo Boyer, a regular employe, did not work that day, being out of the city. At the Peickert shop, where a night light is usually left burning all night, this was also forgotten on Sunday.

CALLED TO OKLAHOMA BY DEATH OF BROTHER

Mrs Helene Bischoff left Sunday for Union City, Okla., called there by a message announcing the death of her brother, Anton Fuhring. Mr. Fuhring's death was entirely unexpected, as Mrs. Bischoff had received a letter from him Saturday morning inviting her to visit him at Union City. There was nothing in the letter to indicate that he was not in his usual health. The deceased was about 83 years of age. His wife died about a month ago.

"UP IN MABL'S ROOM" COMING TO MAJESTIC

FRIVOLOUS FARCE OF FEMININE FOIBLES HERE ON SATURDAY, JANUARY 29

"Up in Mabel's Room," a frivolous farce of feminine foibles, will be presented at the Majestic theater on Saturday, January 29. The play is in three acts and the scenes are laid in a country home on Long Island.

Garry Ainsworth, a young benedict who is confronted on his honeymoon with the evidence of an old indiscretion. The evidence is a pink chemise which he had unwittingly given to a charming widow of whom he had been fond in his bachelor days. The chemise was unfortunately inscribed "Mabel from Garry" and the slightly jealous and exceedingly mischievous Mabel threated to show it to Garry's wife. Garry pleaded coaxed and cajoled in an effort to get the chemise back, and finally dcided to steal it. More difficulties arose than he dreamed of and in the course of his adventures he found himself in situation after situation, painful to himself but that furnish the greatest delight to his audiences.

The production is a costly and elaborate one and the company carefully selected.

You know as well as I do—

—what milker God designed the cow to work with.

WHEN men's hands replaced the calf they lacked one important thing the calf had—that's suction. So man had to squeeze the milk out.

There has been so much "bunk" talked on this subject that I want to tell you a few plain facts. When expert dairymen first made the Pine Tree, they didn't plan to squeeze out the milk like men do. They designed a teat cup to suck out the milk, like the calf does.

When the calf squeezes the teat with its tongue, it isn't to squeeze out the milk, but to squeeze the blood back from the veins of the teat, into the udder.

The Pine Tree does exactly the same thing. It milks by suction. Then between sucks the rubber teat cup lining collapses and squeezes the blood back into the udder. This maintains a brisk circulation and keeps the teats and udder just as healthy as nature intended them to be.

I tell you that any milker that works different than this is not a safe milker to buy. Nature's way is good enough.

Don't Buy Any Milker Till You See the Pine Tree

Let me take you out to see some of the many herds which are being milked by the Pine Tree. I want you to see how the cows stand while being milked by Pine Tree. Talk to the owners. Get first hand information. Let's figure together right away.

Remember, if I can't show you how a Pine Tree can make you money, I don't want your business. I have the evidence of plenty of farmers to prove that the Pine Tree will pay for itself. See me or phone right away.

SOCIETIES JOIN IN GOOD WORK

SIXTY ORGANIZATIONS REPRESENTED AT PRELIMINARY MEETING OF COMMUNITY COUNCIL

CHILD WELFARE IS OBJECT

FIRST SESSION INDICATES IT WILL WORK IN INTEREST OF CHILDREN

(By Dr. F. A. Southwick)

At a preliminary meeting at the Public Library Friday evening of delegates from 60 local organizations appointed to constitute a Community Council, temporary organization was effected and it was voted unanimously to form such a council.

How It Came About

During the late fall months a survey was conducted in the city, through a representative sent here by the Central Division of the Red Cross to ascertain the defects and deficiencies of our community life.

The work of this survey came under two general heads; public health and child welfare, the latter including education, recreation, retardation and delinquency.

Five weeks were consumed in making this investigation by about forty of our citizens under the direction of the Red Cross representative.

At the conclusion of the work the chairmen of the different committees reported at a meeting held at the Parish house. At that meeting a resolution was adopted to form a "Community Council" the idea being to form a community-wide body to deal with the problems which the survey committee had found to exist, and which are not now being treated because there is no organization in the city especially fitted, or willing or able to deal with them on account of their limited power, influence or membership.

This is a nation-wide movement and already there are thirty such organizations in Wisconsin.

At the meeting Friday evening, Dr. F A. Southwick was chosen temporary chairman and Mrs. F. W. Leahy secretary to act until a permanent organization was completed.

To Work With All

After discussing the problems reported in the survey it was unanimously voted to form a council, and a committee consisting of M. M. Ames, H. R. Steiner, E. B. Robertson and C. A. Joerns, together with Mrs. Maloney, Mrs. Alex Ringness and Mrs. E. T. Smith were appointed to submit a constitution and plans for consideration at the next meeting to be held in two weeks.

As a Community Council is made up of single representatives from all organizations it really is a co-ordination of all these bodies and so its work is to support and assist other organizations when they undertake community-wide problems and not to supplant them.

It, however, will initiate action upon maters which are not being treated if it seems desirable.

This was made plain at the meeting when it was shown that chest and children's clinics could be conducted with great benefit to the community, as diseases and defects would be discovered in their incipiency and disability and distress avoided.

Backward Children

Another phase of work that will be studied and treated is retardation of children in the public and parochial schools. The survey showed that there are 243 children below grade; some from lack of opportunity and some from physical defects; others carried along year after year at an expense of $65 per year when they are what is termed "hand minded," should be placed in a trade or vocational school where they can be fitted for some form of useful life, so they may not become a burden upon their friends or upon society.

After listening to the discussion it was generally believed there was never an organization launched in Stevens Point that had the opportunity for improving home and community life as has this "Community Council of Stevens Point."

It Reaches All

Among the organizations represented are all the churches in the city, one delegate being appointed to represent the men and one the women, all the Parent-Teachers' associations in the schools, all the fraternal organizations, such as the Masons, the Knights of Columbus the Moose and all the others, all the civic societies, including the Chamber of Commerce, all the charitable organizations, like the Humane society and the Red Cross, the Hospital association, the County Medical society, all the men's and women's clubs such as the Women's club, the Progress club and the Rotary club, and in fact all the known organizations of any kind in the city. If there any not represented, it is requested that they be heard from and that they name delegates.

HARD FOUGHT GAME GOES TO VISITORS 22 TO 21 COUNT

EAU CLAIRE NORMAL BASKETBALL TEAM WINNER OF CONFERENCE GAME AT LOCAL GYMNASIUM FRIDAY EVENING

Eau Claire Normal triumphed over Stevens Point in basketball at the Normal gym on Friday evening 22 to 21 in a spectacular contest. Fans were given plenty of thrills during the game as two evenly matched teams battled to keep or overtake a lead which was never more than a margin of a few points.

Three times in the first half the score was tied and a five man defense resorted to by both quintets made short shots rare and long shots a necessity. Eau Claire scored first with a free throw and a basket but this was quickly evened up and a few seconds later the local men held a one point lead. Just before the half ended the score stood 10 and 10 but a free throw made by Anderson of Eau Claire again gave the visitors the lead when time was called.

Shortly after the second half began Eau Claire pulled slowly ahead maintaining a lead of a few points for a few minutes. Frequent baskets by Coach Swetland's team kept the losers trailing so closely that the outcome of the contest was in doubt until the end. A lead of only one or two points was the rule and Eau Claire was never more than four points ahead. In this half Stevens Point tied their opponents at 16 points each and at one time led by a point. An erroneous count on the score board gave Eau Claire an additional basket, and announced the final score as 24 to 21, but the official count shows that the visiting team is credited with one less basket, making the final tally 22 to 21.

The Eau Claire team excelled in floor work, displaying proficiency at the passing game. Team work of the visitors was broken up, however, before the men could work the ball to close range shots. Many attempts of local players to score on long shots failed by a close margin, Andrews having especially hard luck in his shooting.

The lineup of the two teams follows:

Stevens Point—Bourn, McCarr, forwards; McBride, center; Andrews Wilson, guards.

Eau Claire—Connors, Anderson, forwards; Schultz, center; Klouda, Carrol, guards.

Field goals—Stevens Point: Bourn 7, McCarr 3, McBride 1, Andrews 1. Eau Claire: Klouda 1, Connors 3, Schultz 1, Anderson 4, Carrol 1. Free throws—Stevens Point: McBride, 5 out of 7. Eau Claire: Anderson, 4 out of 7.

THIRTY YEAR TERMS FOR ALLEGED YEGGS

HEAVY SENTENCES ARE IMPOSED ON SIX MEN IN COURTS AT SUPERIOR AND OSHKOSH

Thirty years each in the state penitentiary at Waupun was meted out to James King, Charles Turner and Edward Rogers, after they were found guilty by a jury on two counts charging assault with intent to kill as the result of the robbery of the robbery of the Exchange bank at Oshkosh last September. The three men, with two others, drove up to the bank at closing time, ordered employes and others to lie down on the floor, and proceeded to gather up money. Assistant Cashier John Glatz was shot in the face and as he fell managed to set off the burglar alarm, rousing the neighborhood. The robbers then hastened away in an automobile but were later captured at Chippewa Falls with three women who claimed to be their wives and who testified that none of the men was in Oshkosh on the day of the robbery. The three women are facing a charge of larceny because coats found in their possession were identified as having been stolen from a store in Antigo.

Tirty years in Waupun penitentiary was the sentence given to J. J. Bohnger, Charles Steward and Herbert C Ryan by Judge Solon L. Perrin after the men had been found guilty of complicity in the holdup of the Superior State bank at Superior on November 16.

HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

STOCKHOLDERS OF CONSOLIDATED COMPANY MEET AT WISCONSIN RAPIDS

The annual stockholders' meeting of the Consolidated Water Power & Paper company was held at Wisconsin Rapids on Wednesday of last week, Carl Haertel of this city being among the out of town men present. Reports of the officers showed that the company had made big strides in its production and sales during the past year. The stockholders re-elected G. W. Mead, Isaac P. Witter, R. K. Kaus, T. W. Brazeau and George Berkey as directors for the coming year. The present officers were re-elected as follows: President, George W. Mead; vice-president R. L. Kraus; secretary, Isaac P. Witter; secretary, E. B. Redford.

In his report to the stockholders, President Mead called attention to the fact that the print paper machines of the company were running as steadily as usual and that the firm was assured of a good market for their product because of the continued demand for newsprint. The sale of the tissue and lighter paper products of the Stevens Point mill was alluded to in Mr. Mead's report, which indicated that the company intends to enter into other lines of production to supply steady demand for lighter papers.

LOCAL MAN'S FATHER EXPIRES IN THE WEST

JOHN W. BROWN GET MESSAGE ANNOUNCING DEATH OF A RELATIVE AT PORTLAND LAST THURSDAY

(From Monday's Daily.)

John W. Brown, state commander of the Maccabees, received a telegram from Portland, Oregon, announcing the death last Thursday of his father, John R. Brown, aged 84 years. The body is now enroute to Port Huron, Mich., and is expected to pass through Stevens Point on Soo train No 2 at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. One of the daughters of the deceased, Mrs. Geo. Lawrence, is accompanying the remains and will be joined here by her brother. Burial will take place in the Brown family lot at Port Huron, where the wife and mother was laid to rest seventeen years ago.

Two sons and three daughters of the late Mr. Brown are residents of Portland and another son lives in Saskatchewan, Canada. He had been making his home with the children in Oregon for nearly fteen years but ten years ago came to Stevens Point and spent several months at his son's home. When John W. Brown visited at Portland last June the father was then very poorly, having suffered two strokes of paralysis, and he had since been gradually failing.

THREE STORES ROBBED SUNDAY

BURGLARS BREAK INTO TWO DOWNTOWN BUSINESS PLACES AND ONE ON SOUTH SIDE

OVER $50 IN CASH STOLEN

MARAUDERS OVERLOOK $60 IN SILVER AT SOFT DRINK ESTABLISHMENT

(From Monday's Daily.)

Burglars broke into three Stevens Point business houses on Sunday afternoon and evening, stealing a total of $54.07 in cash, a revolver and two cartoons of cigarettes. Entrance to two of the places was gained by cutting through the panel of rear doors and at the third place by breaking in a basement window after attempts to enter by the door had failed.

Places Burglarized

The three places burglarized and the losses reported at each follow:

W. B. Pett grocery store on South side, $9.70 in cash and two cartons of cigarettes taken.

Peickert's Sanitary Meat Market, 451 Main street, 27 pennies stolen.

George Hoppa soft drink establishment, 202 Main street, $45 in cash and a revolver taken.

Cut Through Two Doors

Discovery of the burglary at the Pett store was made by Mr. Pett at 7:40 o'clock Sunday evening. The store had been entered some time during the afternoon or early evening as its proprietor had spent Sunday morning there, leaving at noon. Immediately upon entering his place of business Sunday evening Mr. Pett noticed that the tobacco case had been rifled and discovered the loss of two cartons of cigarettes. The sum of $9.70 which had been left in the cash registered at the front of the building was also found missing.

An investigation disclosed the fact that the building had been entered by a rear door, the burglar or burglars cutting out a hole in the paneling large enough to reach through and remove a bar which fastened the door. This outside door leads into a rear warehouse and is separated from the store by a second warehouse which was also locked. The marauders found it necessary to cut a hole through the second door and remove the bar which held it before entering the store. The curtains on the front windows were up at the time, but this failed to stop the work of stealing the cigarettes and cash at the front of the store.

Break Basement Window

Discovery of the burglary at the Hoppa soft drink establishment was made at 12:15 o'clock this morning by Night Officer John Worzalla, who found the rear door unlocked while making the rounds of business places. Mr. Hoppa was called and found that $45 in cash was missing from the cash register. This morning Roman Boyer, an employe, discovered the loss of a revolver which he had left on one side of the register.

The thieves at the Hoppa establishment overlooked a cigar container which was loaded to the top with silver. It contained $60 and stood only a few inches away from the cash register. The getaway was effected through a rear door, which had previously been cut through in two places in an unsuccessful attempt to enter that way. A bar which held the door in place was fastened so securely that the person reaching through the hole in the paneling aparently could not remove it from the outside. A rear basement window was found broken in, the person or persons burglarizing the place evidently leaving through the door after removing the bar from the inside.

Get 27 Pennies

At the Peickert market a small hole was cut through a rear door and a bar removed, permitting entrance. The sum of 27 cents in pennies was taken from the cash register and three cents overlooked. Officer John Frymark found the door unlocked shortly after midnight and called Mr. Peickert.

At the Hoppa establishment it was reported that the cash is usually locked in the safe every evening but that when the place was closed on Sunday evening at 5:45 o'clock this was forgotten as Leo Boyer, a regular employe, did not work that day, being out of the city. At the Peickert shop, where a night light is usually left burning all night, this was also forgotten on Sunday.

CALLED TO OKLAHOMA BY DEATH OF BROTHER

Mrs. Helene Bischoff left Sunday for Union City, Okla., called there by a message announcing the death of her brother, Anton Fuhring. Mr. Fuhring's death was entirely unexpected, as Mrs. Bischoff had received a letter from him Saturday morning inviting her to visit him at Union City. There was nothing in the letter to indicate that he was not in his usual health. The deceased was about 38 years of age. His wife died about a month ago.

2NDS BEAT MEDFORD

The State Normal second team, staging a strong come-back in the second half, scored a victory over the Medford High school team at Medford on Saturday night, the final score being 30 to 24.

Medford led at half-time 19 to 11 but a stronger offense by the teachers in the final period swept their opponents away, netting 19 additional points for the Normal men and only 5 for the High school players.

Heffron, right forward for the Normal scored four field goals and two free throws out of four attempts. E. Holman and Haasl played left forward the latter getting one basket. Wysocki at center registered seven field goals and Pahl and G Holman, guards, one each. Coach J. E. Swetland accompanied the team.

"UP IN MABL'S ROOM" COMING TO MAJESTIC

FRIVOLOUS FARCE OF FEMININE FOIBLES HERE ON SATURDAY, JANUARY 29

"Up in Mabel's Room," a frivolous farce of feminine foibles, will be presented at the Majestic theater on Saturday, January 29. The play is in three acts and the scenes are laid in a country home on Long Island.

Garry Ainsworth, a young benedict who is confronted on his honeymoon with the evidence of an old indiscretion. The evidence is a pink chemise which he had unwittingly given to a charming widow of whom he had been fond in his bachelor days. The chemise was unfortunately inscribed "Mabel from Garry" and the slightly jealous and exceedingly mischievous Mabel threated to show it to Garry's wife. Garry pleaded coaxed and cajoled in an effort to get the chemise back, and finally dcided to steal it. More difficulties arose than he dreamed of and in the course of his adventures he found himself in situation after situation, painful to himself but that furnish the greatest delight to his audiences.

The production is a costly and elaborate one and the company carefully selected.

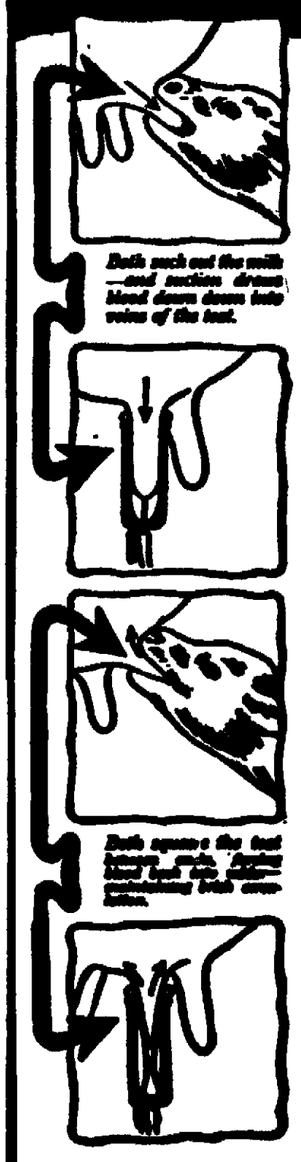
"So Why Hesitate"

A. KICKBUSCH GROCERY CO.
WAUSAU, WISCONSIN



You know as well as I do—

—what milker God designed the cow to work with.

WHEN men's hands replaced the calf they lacked one important thing the calf had—that's suction. So man had to squeeze the milk out.

There has been so much "bunk" talked on this subject that I want to tell you a few plain facts. When expert dairymen first made the Pine Tree, they didn't plan to squeeze out the milk like men do. They designed a teat cup to suck out the milk, like the calf does.

When the calf squeezes the teat with its tongue, it isn't to squeeze out the milk, but to squeeze the blood back from the veins of the teat, into the udder.

The Pine Tree does exactly the same thing. It milks by suction. Then between sucks the rubber teat cup lining collapses and squeezes the blood back into the udder. This maintains a brisk circulation and keeps the teats and udder just as healthy as nature intended them to be.

I tell you that any milker that works different than this is not a safe milker to buy. Nature's way is good enough.

Don't Buy Any Milker Till You See the Pine Tree

Let me take you out to see some of the many herds which are being milked by the Pine Tree. I want you to see how the cows stand while being milked by Pine Tree. Talk to the owners. Get first hand information. Let's figure together right away.

Remember, if I can't show you how a Pine Tree can make you money, I don't want your business. I have the evidence of plenty of farmers to prove that the Pine Tree will pay for itself. See me or phone right away.

SIXTY ORGANIZATIONS REPRESENTED AT PRELIMINARY MEETING OF COMMUNITY COUNCIL

CHILD WELFARE IS OBJECT

FIRST SESSION INDICATES IT WILL WORK IN INTEREST OF CHILDREN

(By Dr. F. A. Southwick)

At a preliminary meeting at the Public Library Friday evening of delegates from 60 local organizations appointed to constitute a Community Council, temporary organization was effected and it was voted unanimously to form such a council.

How It Came About

During the late fall months a survey was conducted in the city, through a representative sent here by the Central Division of the Red Cross to ascertain the defects and deficiencies of our community life.

The work of this survey came under two general heads; public health and child welfare, the latter including education, recreation, retardation and delinquency.

Five weeks were consumed in making this investigation by about forty of our citizens under the direction of the Red Cross representative.

At the conclusion of the work the chairmen of the different committees reported at a meeting held at the Parish house. At that meeting a resolution was adopted to form a "Community Council" the idea being to form a community-wide body to deal with the problems which the survey committee had found to exist, and which are not now being treated because there is no organization in the city especially fitted, or willing or able to deal with them on account of their limited power, influence or membership.

This is a nation-wide movement and already there are thirty such organizations in Wisconsin.

At the meeting Friday evening, Dr. F A. Southwick was chosen temporary chairman and Mrs. F. W. Leahy secretary to act until a permanent organization was completed.

To Work With All

After discussing the problems reported in the survey it was unanimously voted to form a council, and a committee consisting of M. Amen, H. R. Steiner, E. B. Rosenstengel and G. A. Goerke, together with Mrs. Maloney, Mrs. Alex Blagness and Mrs. E. T. Smith were appointed to submit a constitution and plans for consideration at the next meeting to be held in two weeks.

As a Community Council is made up of single representatives from all organizations it really is a co-ordination of all these bodies and so its work is to support and assist other organizations when they undertake community-wide problems and not to supplant them.

It, however, will initiate action upon maters which are not being treated if it seems desirable.

This was made plain at the meeting when it was shown that chest and children's clinics could be conducted with great benefit to the community, as diseases and defects would be discovered in their incipiency and disability and distress avoided.

Backward Children

Another phase of work that will be studied and treated is retardation of children in the public and parochial schools. The survey showed that there are 243 children below grade; some from lack of opportunity and some from physical defects; others carried along year after year at an expense of $65 per year when they are what is termed "hand minded," should be placed in a trade or vocational school where they can be fitted for some form of useful life, so they may not become a burden upon their friends or upon society.

After listening to the discussion it was generally believed there was never an organization launched in Stevens Point that had the opportunity for improving home and community life as has this "Community Council of Stevens Point."

It Reaches All

Among the organizations represented are all the churches in the city, one delegate being appointed to represent the men and one the women, all the Parent-Teachers' associations in the schools, all the fraternal organizations, such as the Masons, the Knights of Columbus the Moose and all the others, all the civic societies, including the Chamber of Commerce, all the charitable organizations, like the Humane society and the Red Cross, the Hospital association, the County Medical society, all the men's and women's clubs such as the Women's club, the Progress club and the Rotary club, and in fact all the known organizations of any kind in the city. If there any not represented, it is requested that they be heard from and that they name delegates.

HARD FOUGHT GAME GOES TO VISITORS 22 TO 21 COUNT

EAU CLAIRE NORMAL BASKETBALL TEAM WINNER OF CONFERENCE GAME AT LOCAL GYMNASIUM FRIDAY EVENING

Eau Claire Normal triumphed over Stevens Point in basketball at the Normal gym on Friday evening 22 to 21 in a spectacular contest. Fans were given plenty of thrills during the game as two evenly matched teams battled to keep or overtake a lead which was never more than a margin of a few points.

Three times in the first half the score was tied and a five man defense resorted to by both quintets made short shots rare and long shots a necessity. Eau Claire scored first with a free throw and a basket but this was quickly evened up and a few seconds later the local men held a one point lead. Just before the half ended the score stood 10 and 10 but a free throw made by Anderson of Eau Claire again gave the visitors the lead when time was called.

Shortly after the second half began Eau Claire pulled slowly ahead maintaining a lead of a few points for a few minutes. Frequent baskets by Coach Swetland's team kept the losers trailing so closely that the outcome of the contest was in doubt until the end. A lead of only one or two points was the rule and Eau Claire was never more than four points ahead. In this half Stevens Point tied their opponents at 16 points each and at one time led by a point. An erroneous count on the score board gave Eau Claire an additional basket, and announced the final score as 24 to 21, but the official count shows that the visiting team is credited with one less basket, making the final tally 22 to 21.

The Eau Claire team excelled in floor work, displaying proficiency at the passing game. Team work of the visitors was broken up, however, before the men could work the ball to close range shots. Many attempts of local players to score on long shots failed by a close margin, Andrews having especially hard luck in his shooting.

The lineup of the two teams follows:

Stevens Point—Bourn, McCarr, forwards; McBride, center; Andrews Wilson, guards.

Eau Claire—Connors, Anderson, forwards; Schultz, center; Klouda, Carrol, guards.

Field goals—Stevens Point: Bourn 2, McCarr 2, McBride 1, Andrews 1. Eau Claire: Klouda 1, Connors 3, Anderson 4, substitute, Chapp 1. Stevens Point: Bourn, McCarr, McBride, Andrews out of 7. Eau Claire: Anderson, 4 out of 7.

THIRTY YEAR TERMS FOR ALLEGED YEGGS

HEAVY SENTENCES ARE IMPOSED ON SIX MEN IN COURTS AT SUPERIOR AND OSHKOSH

Thirty years each in the state penitentiary at Waupun was meted out to James King, Charles Turner and Edward Rogers, after they were found guilty by a jury on two counts charging assault with intent to kill as the result of the robbery of the robbery of the Exchange bank at Oshkosh last September. The three men, with two others, drove up to the bank at closing time, ordered employes and others to lie down on the floor, and proceeded to gather up money. Assistant Cashier John Glatz was shot in the face and as he fell managed to set off the burglar alarm, rousing the neighborhood. The robbers then hastened away in an automobile but were later captured at Chippewa Falls with three women who claimed to be their wives and who testified that none of the men was in Oshkosh on the day of the robbery. The three women are facing a charge of larceny because coats found in their possession were identified as having been stolen from a store in Antigo.

Thirty years in Waupun penitentiary was the sentence given to J. J. Bohner, Charles Steward and Herbert C. Ryan by Judge Seton L. Perrin after the men had been found guilty of complicity in the holdup of the Superior State bank at Superior on November 16.

MINIMUM WAGE MAY BE RAISED

ACTION PLANNED CONTRARY TO SUPPOSED MOVEMENT FOR REDUCED WAGE SCALE IN WISCONSIN

COMMISSION GETS PETITION

ALSO BILL IS OFFERED PROVIDING FOR EXHAUSTIVE INQUIRY LATER ON

(By the United Press.)

Madison, Wis., Jan. 22—Labor legislation during the present session of the legislature promises to be both numerous and important. Its scope will range from the old age pension bill to the 8 hour day measure.

Among the more important bills on labor legislation that will be introduced will be changes in the form of amendments to the present minimum wage law.

Organized labor looks upon the law as it now stands as insufficient. Its provisions, they ohld, are inadequate. As a step forward the bill when was passed was acceptable. Now after a year or more of its operation it has sprung some serious inadequacies and improvements are to be asked for by labor men.

Minimum Too Low

As the law operates the industrial commission has the power of administering its provisions. This gives the commission the right to fix the minimum wage. This wage at present is on the following scale:

Experienced women and minors over 17, not less than 22 cents an hour.

Apprentices during the first three months, not less than 18 cents an hour, and the second three months, not less than 20 cents an hour; minors under 6, not less than 18 cents an hour; between 16 and 17, 20 cents an hour.

The scale, it is agreed, is an improvement over previous conditions. But it still does not meet the real needs of conditions, laborites hold.

A living wage, a member of the state council of organized labor said, menat a compensation consistent with the welfare of the worker. By welfare, he explained, he meant reasonable comfort, reasonable physical well being, decency and moral well being.

To Make Survey

The important thing as they, therefore, see it, is a means for securing reliable information to determine honestly what would be a just minimum wage. An amendment is to be prepared which will give the industrial commission the power under the present law to make exhaustible survey of salaries in the state so that there will be scientific basis for the commission's award.

The work will be an enormous undertaking. There were 425,000 employes in the state. There are 25,000 employers who have 3 or more employes. Of the total number of employes there are at least 100,000 women workers.

The commission places the cost of such a statistical undertaking at $20,000.

With the results of such an inquire before it, and with the added power of being able to compel employers to give the information desired, the effectiveness and scope of the law, exponents of the amendment hold, would be doubled.

Immediate Rise Asked

A petition is now being considered by the industrial commission to increase the present wage scale. Three state organizations are backing the increased pay request: the State Federation of Labor and the Central Council of Social Agencies.

One hearing has been held by the advisory board to the commission. A member of the board which is composed of equal representation of capital, labor and the public, stated that one of the principal efforts of the employers would be to secure a change in the law.

At the recent hearing [illegible] there was a [illegible] position of employers [illegible] the board members [illegible] considered the wages as [illegible] ably higher place of [illegible] ever before.

OBITUARY

Mathew Shuda

Mathew Shuda, a resident of the town of Hull for nearly 60 years, was found dead in his bed at his home at 6 o'clock Wednesday morning. He had retired the evening before, apparently in good health, and when his wife went to call him on Wednesday morning she found him dead. Death is believed to have been caused by heart failure.

The deceased was born in German Poland on December 15, 1857. When he was about four years of age he came to the United States, with his parents, the family settling in the town of Hull, where the late Mr Shuda had since resided.

The deceased is survived by his widow and thirteen children, Alex Shuda of the town of Hull, Jacob Shuda of Dancy, Mrs J. Ribicki of this city, and Edward, Dominick, Anton, Michael, Steve, Lucas, Peter, Julius, Dorothy and Sophia Shuda all of whom reside at the family home.

Funeral services were conducted from St. Casimir's Catholic church at 9 o'clock Saturday morning, Rev. J. Sokol officiating and burial following in the parish cemetery.

Mrs. Pauline Menzel

Mrs. Pauline Menzel, one of the older residents of Stevens Point and one who was well and favorably known among residents of this city, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. R. H. Tesker, 109 Clark avenue, Waukegan, Ill., Thursday night.

Mrs. Menzel, who had long been in failing health, went to Waukegan four months ago to spend the winter. Her son, Carl Menzel, of this city visited her there last week, and at that time her condition seemed to be but little changed. Announcement of her death was consequently unexpected.

The deceased was 67 years of age and a native of Germany. She came to the United States when she was 26 years of age and practically ever since had made her home in Stevens Point. For the past several years she had resided at 222 Prairie street. Surviving are six children, Mrs. R. H. Tascher, Waukegan, Ill., Max Menzel, Kenosha, and William, Alfred, Herman and Carl Menzel, all of Stevens Point.

The body will be brought to Stevens Point for burial. It is expected to arrive Saturday or Sunday and will be taken to the home of her son, Herman Menzel, 210 George street. The funeral will probably be held Monday afternoon from the residence.

Mrs. Menzel was a member of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran church for many years.

Mrs. Angeline Carley

Mrs. Angeline Carley, a resident of Buena Vista for 85 years, died at 11:20 o'clock Thursday evening at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Lewis Precourt in Buena Vista, where she had gone for a few days' visit. Mrs Carley had been ill for nearly three years, and during the last three weeks her condition became worse.

The deceased, whose maiden name was Angeline Newby, was born September 8, 1818, at Cayanga, Holdeman county, Canada. At the age of seven years she removed with her parents to Buena Vista, where she had since resided. On June 24, 1836, she was married to Simeon Carley and of this union five children were born, three of whom are now living. The late Mrs. Carley was a lifelong member of the M. E. church and was an earnest and cheerful worker in that congregation.

The deceased is survived by three children, Mrs. Lewis Precourt, Mrs Forest Gates and S. Earl Carley, all of Buena Vista, and four brothers, Gilbert Newby of Buena Vista, C. E. Newby of Fairmont, N. D., W. A. Newby of Greenville, Ohio, and I. C. Newby of Madison. W. A. and I. C. Newby will come to Buena Vista to attend the funeral services.

The remains of the deceased will be laid to rest in the Buena Vista cemetery on Sunday afternoon following funeral services at her home at 2 o'clock Rev. Ernst Leuenberger officiating.

STATE FAR BEHIND IN SPUD SHIPMENTS

PRICES PAID THROUGHOUT THE STATE NOW RANGE FROM 50 TO 75 CENTS PER HUNDRED

Wisconsin is more than a third behind with potato shipments to date this season compared with the number of shipments during the same period last year. Total shipments to date this season amount to 8,517 cars while the number of cars during the same period last year was 13,080. Prices paid to growers throughout the state vary from 50 to 75 cents per hundred pounds, according to the report of the bureau of markets.

Local buyers are paying 75 cents per hundred pounds for potatoes, the same average price they have been offering for the last few weeks. There is more activity on the local market now, however, and it is thought by dealers that farmers will continue to bring in more of their crop for some time. About forty loads were brought to the Public square on Tuesday. Some Triumph seed potatoes are being placed on the local market and command from $2.00 to $2.13 per hundred pounds.

For State Builders.

They who preach patience to the peoples as the sole remedy for the ills by which they are oppressed, or who, while they admit the necessity of a contest, would yet leave the initiative to be taken by their rulers, do not, to my thinking, understand the state of things coming upon us. . . . It is not enough to precipitate a monarchy into a gulf; the gulf must be closed up, and a durable edifice erected on its site.—From "Faith and the Future," by Mazzini.

Rejecting a Compliment.

A well-known member of the stock exchange, who is now giving up the close of a strenuous life to philanthropic efforts, was in his heyday a tremendous gambler in stocks, and, incidentally, he and his partner were rather expert in the gentle art of making enemies. One of these accosted him with the pleasant remark: "Look here, you are the biggest thief on the stock exchange." "Ah," was the answer, "it is evident you do not know my partner."—London Tit-Bits.
